

WIN Resource Center Overview

Welcome to the WIN Resource Center.

This is the Resource Center landing page where you can select a specific product to learn more about the functions and access additional resources.

Your Resource Center dashboard may look different if you are a part of a statewide contract. In this case, you'll have customized resources that are specific to your statewide implementation below the products.

At the top of the page, we have the WIN Career Readiness System, Video Library, and Contact WIN. These three menu items are always accessible at the top. You'll need to use the back arrow from your browser to return to your landing page.

The WIN Career Readiness System section contains information about the functions inside the system from an administrator or facilitator's perspective.

Next is the video library, which includes brief videos on how to use specific functions inside the WIN Career Readiness System.

And last is Contact WIN, where you can complete a short form that will help us direct you to the right person.

You can also scroll down to email a specific customer success manager a regional account manager.

Navigating back to the WIN Resource Center landing page, at the bottom, we also include a link to navigate to learn more about the news and product updates, another link to navigate to the video library, and a link to join the mission, which is to subscribe to our email newsletter.

Let's navigate to the WIN Career Readiness System section to go over the Resource Center navigation.

On the WIN Career Readiness System section home page, you'll notice that there are links available to download and print printable resources. You can select the button at the top to navigate to learn more about the specific features inside the WIN Career Readiness System.

We recommend going from left to right in sequential order to learn more about the products and features. You can scroll down after reading the instructional content, and there's gonna be menu navigation at the bottom.

Top will return to the top of the page. Home will return to the WIN Career Readiness System homepage. And Next will take us to the next page, which is, in this case, assignments.

You notice that reports has this bar with different tabs. Selecting the different tabs will allow us to learn more about the different feature. In this case, we're learning about the different reports available inside the WIN Career Readiness System.

And if we navigate to products, there's a button available where we can go back to the Resource Center generic landing page to learn more about the different products available in the WIN Career Readiness system.

When we select a specific product, you'll notice that it opens in a new tab. This is so we can easily navigate back to the resource center once we're done accessing the resources in this specific product.

The navigation function is the same as previously covered in the WIN Career Readiness Systems section of the resource center, where we can navigate to a placement test.

Click next. Check out the pretest. And move forward.

And, of course, home will take us back to the home page where we can access printable resources if available or download the learner quick start guide.

Please feel free to share your feedback using your best soft skills by completing the Contact Us form. Thank you.
